About J. K. Rowling

Writing under the pen names J. K. Rowling and Robert Galbraith, Joanne Rowling (born 31 July 1965) is a British novelist, screenwriter, and producer who is best known for writing the Harry Potter fantasy series. The books have won multiple awards and sold more than 400 million copies. They have become the best-selling book series in history and been the basis for a series of films.

*Born in Yate, Gloucestershire, England, Rowling was working as a researcher and bilingual secretary for Amnesty International when she conceived the idea for the Harry Potter series while on a delayed train from Manchester to London in 1990. The seven-year period that followed saw the death of her mother, birth of her first child, divorce from her first husband and relative poverty until the first novel in the series, Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone, was published in 1997. The American edition of Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone was published in September 1998 under the title Rowling suggested, Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone. There were six sequels, of which the last, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, was released in 2007.
