Chinese Vocabulary Guide

Homework Hassle

Simplified Chinese Characters

Beginner to Intermediate Chinese

This Chinese vocabulary guide is a careful selection of basic to intermediate vocabulary words listed in order of appearance in the official Chinese translation of the Berenstain Bears series written by Stan & Jan Berenstain, translated into Mandarin Chinese by Zhang Deqi and Sun Zhifang, and published by Xinjiang Juvenile Publishing House in 2013.

The vocabulary guide uses simplified characters, pinyin, and English definitions provided by CC-Cedict, edited and revised by the LittleNex Team. Only the first occurrence of each selected term is displayed in the vocabulary guide. The selection of vocabulary words is intended to help students in basic to intermediate Chinese gain more confidence reading Chinese and acquire and retain more Chinese vocabulary words in general.

About Stan & Jan Berenstain

Stanley Melvin Berenstain (1923 – 2005) and Janice Marian Berenstain (née Grant, 1923 – 2012) were American writers and illustrators best known for creating the children's book series The Berenstain Bears. They were born and raised in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. During WWII, Stan served as a military medical illustrator while Jan was a draft artist for the Army Corps of Engineers. The two married on April 17, 1946.

The Berenstains said that a big reason behind their inspiration was some of the difficulties parents faced, as well as some childhood tribulations when they were kids themselves. The Berenstains also noted there were some issues which seemed to appear in every generation, such as kids throwing tantrums in public places. However, they deliberately wanted to steer clear of overly heavy issues, such as violence.
